NEW HARNESS SHOP. massed In the northern

T. E. Ditgen, who has been conducting a harness shop at Forgan for some months past, moved his stock to Heaver this week and has opened up for business in the front room of the White House hotel. He will carry hand-made harness, saddles and horse furnishing goods. He comes well recommended as a good workman. The Herald welcomes him to Beaver and bespeaks for him a good trade. Mr. Ditgen is starting out right by planting an ad in the Herald. Don't fail to see him when in need of anything in the harness and saddlery

BOOT AND SHOE SHOP.

G. Streuli commenced the construction of a building on his lots, near the Home Lumber Company yard, this week which he will occupy when completed as a residence and a boot and shoe shop. Mr. Streuli learned the shoemaking trade years ago and underhigh-class cowboy boot work, then so much in demand.

WHAT'S TO BE DONE WITH THEM?

The advertising, donation and solicitation committe of the Chamber of Commerce turned down another solicitor last week. This time it was a person claiming to have tuberculosis. The committee voted to give him enough money to get him to another town as they thought it better than to have a person with that disease soliciting among our citizens.-Liberal (Kas.) Democrat.

The Liberal people don't seem to go strong for being their ' brother's keeper." How about the people of the other town? Of course they had the privilege of sending him on and so the poor fellow would go down the line. It would seem some means should be provided for the treatment of such malignant cases, where those afflicted were upable to care for themselves, instead of permitting them to solicit help from door to door and thus jeopardize the health of others.

L. B. Tooker and wife returned to stands the business thoroughly. He Beaver last week. They will be at conducted a shop in Beaver many home to their friends after Dec. 1st in years in the pioneer days doing the their new home which is being constructed on McClees Avenue, just south of J.
